Improved Care At County Home Costs Taxpayers Less Than Under Old Operation

Because Adams County is providing improved care for its guests in the county home, county taxpayers are actually paying less for its operation.

That is the conclusion found in a survey made by W. E. Jordan, superintendent of the home, and Dr. Raymond F. Sheely, county home physician, of the costs of operation of the home during the past five years.

Jordan and Dr. Sheely, after making up the report of operational costs for 1963, made similar studies for the four preceding years to compare cost of the old county home operation with that of the new home with its more highly qualified employees and larger staff.

WON CERTIFICATION

1959 was the year the county commissioners decided to construct a new county home and to reorganize the staff to meet state standards. As a result, that year was chosen as the start for the financial surveys.

At the old county home only one licensed nurse was on duty five days a week. Housing facilities and equipment were substandard.

In 1961 when the new county home was completed the staff was increased. The 25 members of the present staff include the superintendent and matron, three registered nurses, one in charge of each shift; five licensed practical nurses, five licensed nurses, four male attendants, three cooks, one dishwasher, a housekeeper and a laundress.

As a result, the county, on January 2, 1962, received from Mrs. Ruth Horting, the commissioner of the state Department of Public Welfare, a note stating: "This will advise you that the Adams County institution is certified as a medical institution eligible for participation in Aid to the Disabled and Medical Assistance to the Aged Programs."

COUNTY'S SHARE DROPPED

County officials had decided to meet the state standards in order to give the patients qualified nursing care. They had anticipated that the cost of county home operation would go up—as it did. But they did not anticipate that

AREA FARMERS SHOW INTEREST IN CAMP SITES

Adams County may soon have a number of farms where tourists may pitch tents and camp.

Twenty farmers attending a public recreation meeting held by the county agricultural extension service Thursday night in the Adams Electric Building expressed interest in the possibility of establishing camping sites on their properties.

Joseph Cardenuto, rural recreation specialist from Pennsylvania State University, outlined the growing demand for recreational facilities and some of the things that farmers have been doing to serve the tourist.

While the discussion indicated farmers have opened their farms to guests who stayed in the farm home, and others have set up riding stables, fishing areas, etc., most of the local group were enthused mainly with the idea of devoting part of the farm acreage to camping sites. Cardenuto noted that among problems involved are establishment of roads to provide access to the sites, laying out of sites, placing of tables and fireplaces, etc., and the problem of keeping the sites clean and free of dangers. Proper methods of promotion are also important "so the tourist will know where to find you and what you have available."

PREDICTS INCOMES

He said extensions of statistics show that by 1970 the average family will have an annual income of $9,300 of which $2,600 will be "disposable" after meeting basic needs. Population will have increased to 230 million and 50 million will reside within 200 miles of here. The working week will average 37.4 hours and more

Manager Of Mainbocher's Dress Salon Admits Theft Of $166,000 In 7 Years

By ARTHUR EVERETT
NEW YORK (AP) — Mainbocher is a dress salon on Fifth Avenue where the prices start at $750.

"And they go up, up and up," emphasized Asst. Dist. Atty. Leonard Newman in State Supreme Court.

He was explaining how spoiled wives of wealthy men are not above a little financial deception. Behind a web of feminine chicanery, Arthur Keller, 42, concealed his theft of $166,000 from Mainbocher, where he was general manager for 15 years at $22,500 a year.

SENTENCE JUNE 11

Keller pleaded guilty to the theft Thursday and Justice Charles Marks freed him without bail to await sentence June 11.

A dapper man with a mustache, Keller took the money to indulge his passion for boats. His swindle enabled him to move steadily upward in maritime circles until he skipped his own $79,000 yacht.

Keller covered up his thefts for seven years by an involved scheme of juggling accounts — and it was here that the pecca-

PORTRAIT OF FORMER JUDGE GIVEN TO BAR

A portrait of William McClean who served as judge of the Adams County courts from 1874 to 1894 was presented by Mrs. Frances McClean Sweeney to the county through the Adams County Bar Association at its dinner meeting Thursday evening in the Hotel Gettysburg.

Because of inability of Mrs. Sweeney, a granddaughter of Judge McClean, to be present, the presentation at the dinner was made by Attorney Charles W. Wolf, chairman of the association's Law Day Committee.

The portrait, which eventually will hang in the court room, will be the second to be placed there. Judge Sheely's portrait was presented to the county several years ago. Attorney Wolf said it is hoped over the years that eventually portraits of all of the county's judges

PARCEL POST CHANGES TO AFFECT FEW

The vast majority of the residents of Gettysburg will not be affected by the recently announced adjustments in parcel post and post office window service, Postmaster Charles W. Pentz said today. Mr. Pentz explained his statement was prompted by some misunderstanding about the scope of these changes.

Recapping the local postal situation, the Gettysburg postmaster pointed to these facts which become effective on Monday, May 4:

Parcel post deliveries are not affected on rural delivery routes and on mounted routes. City delivery foot routes will continue to deliver parcels up to two pounds and not larger than a shoe box.

ONE DAY LESS

Service is affected only on parcel post routes which will be in service five instead of six days a week. Postmasters throughout the United States will adjust service to local parcel volumes and only an estimated six to eight per cent of total parcel post will be affected in any way. In Gettysburg the parcel post delivery will not be made on Tuesday but

BOARD ADOPTS MERGER NAME AT FAIRFIELD

The new merged school district of Fairfield borough, Hamiltonban and Liberty Twp. Thursday evening was renamed the "Fairfield Area School System," and officers of the previous joint board were re-elected to serve until July 1, when the merger becomes effective. The actions were taken at a continuation of the April 20 board meeting which was recessed until after the primary election in order to adopt a new budget pending results of the merger referendum.

CONTINUE MEETING

However, Thursday's meeting also was recessed after a board member questioned the content of the teachers' salaries category which was not itemized in the proposed $296,281 budget. In his objections to a lump total, Earl Hartzell said he was unable to approve "blanket totals" in the budget without knowing what they included. The personnel committee, reporting that it was unable to present a detailed breakdown until after it meets with a delegation of teachers Tuesday evening, was advised to present a report at another continued meeting set for Thursday, May 7. The budget must be tentatively adopted within 30 days.

The tax schedule was not discussed.

Bids were received from several supply companies for general, art and shop supplies and the committee was advised to study them and make recommendations for awarding the contracts at the next meeting.

WILL BUY PLAQUE

In a 6-5 vote, a committee delegated to arrange for purchase and placement of a dedicatory plaque to be installed in the new $75,000 addition was instructed to pursue the project. The vote was taken after the committee chairman, Harold Deardorff, reported that a plaque would cost the district about $450 and recommended that the project be abandoned. Deardorff was instructed by President Joseph Lowe to continue efforts to locate a suitable memorial.

Sixteen teachers of the school district attended the meeting as "observers."

ZINN HOME SOLD

Edgar W. Weaner, R. 6, bought the Roy E. Zinn property at 41 Hanover St. Wednesday evening at public sale for $10,150. The sale was held by Helen Z. Hicks and Merville E. Zinn, executors of Mr. Zinn's estate. Clair R. Slaybaugh was the auctioneer.

COUNCIL TO MEET

Gettysburg borough council will meet Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the engine house, Secretary Anna B. Drach has announced.

Nine Adams County clubs, six service stations and one tavern were raided by 40 state and local policemen Thursday night, and in each establishment gambling devices were found.

Sixteen defendants who were charged with "establishing and maintaining gambling devices" entered pleas of guilty before Justice of the Peace John Whitman in Cumberland Twp. and posted $300 bail each to appear before the Adams County court for sentence.

Police took two truck loads of confiscated articles, including 21 machines, mostly pinball machines, and several similar to slot machines, to the county jail for safekeeping by the sheriff until the court hands down an order disposing of the loot.

Also confiscated were a number of punchboards, boxes of candy, cigars, cans of fruit juices. Danish and Canadian bacon and other articles said by police to have been prizes that were to be awarded from operation of the punchboards.

5 GHS PUPILS IN ADVANCED SUMMER WORK

As a result of scores obtained on the 1963 preliminary scholastic aptitude test, David Rice, a Junior at Gettysburg Area Senior High School, has been selected for a Telluride Association summer program scholarship at Princeton University.

Four other Gettysburg High students have enrolled in advanced honor summer programs. The Telluride program, which is for outstanding boys and girls between their Junior and Senior years in high school, provides an eight-week session of college-level study during July and August on topics within the fields of humanities or social sciences at Cornell and Princeton Universities. Each program selects 16 students who will be led by college teachers in a combination of reading, seminar and research activity, exploiting the library resources of the university. For men only, the session on the campus of Princeton University is sponsored jointly by Princeton and Telluride. Under the leadership of Dr. Shaw Livermore, of the University of Michigan, and Keith Gunderson, of Princeton, this program will consider "The Citizen and the State."

People will be seeking recreation in greater numbers. Studies of ways people spend their leisure time show the most popular activity is "driving for pleasure" followed by swimming, walking, outdoor sports, sightseeing, picnicking and cycling.

Cardenuto said a study of a number of farms that had devoted areas to camping sites over a period of time showed the average to consist of 50 acres, and original cost of establishing the site was about $6,200. There was a 100-day camping season at $2 per campsite with about 50 per cent occupancy. The profit realized on the average was $6,200.

The average camping family spends in nearby communities each day, according to the survey, $8.25 for groceries, $7.54 for meals, $8.62 for entertainment, $4.41 for novelties and $4.71 for gasoline, oil, etc.

Those seeking to enter the tourist business should first study financing, taxes, regulations, permits and insurance and potential promotion costs before spending money on the project, he advised.

Not all tourist projects make money, he said, "Like any other business success depends upon having something the tourists want and letting them know about it."

1,000,000 gallons in sealed reservoirs would tide the town over the few hours needed to connect the other wells.

The problem had stated the state control centers would be alerted and put on a full-time basis in event of enemy attack. Mayor William G. He said the local Quick Call Center will alert the schools the second any warning comes from the state in order to give the longest possible alarm.

Son Lures Father Into Building A Canoe; Now Both Make Weekend Trips

A Gettysburg father who allowed himself to be talked into making a canoe is so enthusiastic about the sport that he is willing to help any boy in town build his own canoe.

Robert S. Plank, owner and operator of East End Planing Mill, was talked into building a canoe when his 16-year-old son, Robert, got "the bug" after seeing two men paddle past their cabin at Marsh Creek Heights last year. Robert was determined that he would build his own canoe, and in rounding up patterns, building instructions and other data, interested his father to the point where the elder Plank agreed to build it in his mill.

STURDY CANOE

They started building the 15-foot canoe last February from oak ribs, which they made according to directions in a book Robert brought home from the library, 16th-inch plywood and fiberglass. It is light enough for two persons to handle, but sturdy enough to take the waters of the Monocacy, or even rougher water, the elder Plank believes.

They took their third overnight trip Saturday and Sunday, leaving Gettysburg on Marsh Creek at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon. By dusk they were five miles south of the Tom's Creek entry into the Monocacy, where they disembarked to make camp overnight on an island. Sunday morning they paddled on to Frederick, turned around and arrived back in Gettysburg at 4:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

FIRST TRIP IN MARCH

Their first trip was made March 29, a 20-mile trip down Rock Creek to the Monocacy and back on Marsh Creek to Natural Dam, a trip which took slightly over 24 hours. Two weekends later they canoed from Natural Dam to about 15 miles south of Bridgeport and back upstream to Bridgeport, where they were picked up by members of the family.

The elder Plank says "It's a great sport, and we're planning all sorts of trips." He estimates that materials for the canoe cost about $75, "about $200 less than a manufactured one." He believes that his canoe is as sturdy and durable as any factory-made one.

He advises that amateur canoeists should be fully aware of the dangers of the sport, but he says, "It's a lot like learning to ride a bicycle. You have to maintain balance."

FILE REPORT ON TB X-RAYS

A report of the findings on the 423 x-rays taken when the mobile unit was in Adams County on March 30, 31, has been forwarded to the Adams County Tuberculosis and Health Society, it was announced today.

There was one "possible tuberculosis," one neoplasm, and 18 other findings of a nontuberculous nature. There were eight unsatisfactory films, generally caused by a slight movement of the person at the time the x-ray was being made.

Each of the 20 persons who had a finding and their physicians have been notified of the finding.

The local society is responsible for the cost of having a 14 x 17 x-ray taken at the hospital for those having a possible tuberculosis, suspect, or neoplasm.

The mobile unit is brought to Adams County by the society financed with funds raised by the Christmas Seal campaign, and with the cooperation and assistance of the Pennsylvania Department of Health.

Those with an unsatisfactory film were notified by letter and all those whose x-rays showed no irregularities received a postal card notice to this effect.

concise idea of loyalty and a great deal of research." She read her essay to the group and it was tape-recorded by WGET for presentation later.

The VFW then presented VFW citations to Mayor Weaver and Jacob M. Sheeds, high school teacher, two of the judges present for the program. A citation will be presented later to the third judge, Mrs. Katharine Kressman Taylor, who was unable to be present this morning.

Representing the VFW at the program were Commander Charles R. Moser, Past Commander Robert B. Swisher and Adjutant Walter O. Powell, representing the VFW Auxiliary were President Catherine Moser, Secretary Ruth Miller and Past President Mary Fridinger.

Mayor Weaver was introduced by High School Principal Charles E. Tressler. The high school band played "America, the Beautiful" and the national anthem.

Mayor Weaver, in his remarks, outlined various aspects of loyalty stating "the 48 people who turned out last night for a Civil Defense workshop were showing their loyalty to the community, not only by turning out last night, but by their work in Civil Defense. These young people who wrote these essays showed loyalty to their community by participating. There are also evidences of nonloyalty to school, community and nation. One I noticed today was a number of paper cups thrown about the parking lot. A person who is loyal to his community shows it in many ways including helping to keep his school and his community clean."

Old-fashioned recipes sometimes call for "green" corn. That's just another name for ordinary fresh corn that comes on cobs!

Today's Talk

I MUST DO

I wonder how many of us often become muddled up with must do's? Someone calls our attention to something that must be done, and we say, immediately:
"I MUST do that!" — and then we suddenly forget all about it!

In Thoreau's Journal I came across this thought: "I think to myself," said Thoreau, "I must attend to my diet; I must get up earlier and take a morning walk; I must have done with luxuries and devote myself to my muse. So I dam up my stream, and my waters gather to a head. I am frightened with the thought."

That expresses it. These must do's dam up all our thoughts, and also our good intentions — that never come to pass — every time we say I must do — but don't!

So much unfinished business is forever retarding our progress. It is a good idea to jot down the "musts" that crop up from time to time, and then get them attended to — one by one.
By this method so much is accomplished, and at seemingly so little effort. A simple system, carefully worked out, applied to all that we do, assures us of efficient accomplishment.

Life isn't nearly as complicated as many think, but it becomes more complicated by intending to do things, with the intention well implied — but without any action taken. How very familiar to us all in this well-known expression: "Oh, I must do —"

I know of no better motto than this: Get the thing done! It's such a comfortable feeling to know that there are no undone things left behind — that ought to have been done — and no ragged edges to jobs for the morrow. And let us clean up the

PUT CURSE ON RUINED VALDEZ

VALDEZ, Alaska (AP)—The way old-timers tell it, a gypsy woman put a curse on Valdez more than 50 years ago.

She spat on the ground, said some day the earth would shake, many houses would be washed to sea and the rest would be moved to nearby Hazelton. Grass would grow over Valdez.

The gypsy lived in Hazelton, a mining village founded in the 1890's. She placed the curse when it became a ghost town as Valdez thrived.

Valdez was hardest hit of any Alaska city in the great March 27 earthquake. Thirty-two persons were killed, 85 per cent of the town was destroyed and many buildings were swept into the sea.

Now the City Council plans to move Valdez to a new location four miles away—where Hazelton once stood.

details and not climb over them.
Great tasks are completed by neglecting no detail that is important.

We have only so much time each day. Let us formulate our plans early, and do, without procrastination, the things that we ought to do — the must things — not merely say I must, and then let the thing slide into forgetfulness!

RETURN

The going back is difficult. The little house of old Has lost the charm which once it had when we were young and bold.

For strangers live across the street and strangers dwell next door,
And though the road is much the same, our friends are there no more.

We loved it in our golden days, when all its paint was new,
But now we find that going back is difficult to do.

For wind and weather, time and grief have brought about a change,
And all the faces everywhere upon the street are strange.

Time was when happy mothers wheeled their babies up and down,
But now you'll find the brides and grooms live not so close to town;

And all the countless joys we knew, which proudly we recall,
Like us have moved away from there and cannot be found at all.

The going back is difficult.
However man may yearn
To find the scenes of yesterday,
he never can return;
For wind and weather, time and grief will take their toll in change,
And all the old familiar haunts are tramped by people strange.

LACROSSE TILT HERE SATURDAY

La crosse returns to Gettysburg College on a nonvarsity level Saturday afternoon when the college lacrosse club meets the Bucknell University club on the college soccer field at 3 o'clock as part of the Mother's Weekend activities.

Gettysburg disbanded the sport following the 1961 season when it was played on the varsity level, but the enthusiasm of the college athletes who love the sport brought it back to the local collegiate scene.

Twenty-one candidates are fighting for starting berths, although it is certain that Marc Dubick will be the starting goalie on Saturday afternoon. Fighting for midfield berths are Dick Jones, Jay Rockman, Jeff Goynne, Dick Hufnagle, Pete Angello, John Searis, Pete McDowell and Lou Coffin. Candidates for the attack position include Bill Decker, Curt Kartreider, Fred Snook, Maurie Lazenby, Andy Johnston and Jim Rush.

George Samaras, Roger Casciani, Buck Miller, John Anderson, Marc Avnet and "Buzz" Trego will all see action on defense. Goynne and Trego could double as goalies if they are needed.

Although a lacrosse team fields only 10 men, it is certain that Coach George Farley, a professor in the college chemistry department, will play all of his squad during the 60-minute contest on Saturday.

On Saturday, May 9, the club will play another home game. The Baybrook lacrosse club of Baltimore will provide the opposition on that occasion. Baybrook

110 REGISTER FOR LOCAL BALL TRYOUTS

Approximately 110 youngsters registered for the annual Little League tryouts, G. Noel Flynn, player agent, reported at the regular meeting of the league, Thursday evening at the Elks Home.

Flynn said, "This was the first time since the league started that an attempt was made to register the youngsters at one specific location. We feel that it was a tremendous success and propose that it be continued in the future."

In past years league members went to all schools, passing out forms and then had to return to collect them. Flynn stated that 49 nine-year-olds, 24 10-year-olds, 21 11-year-olds, and 16 12-year-olds registered.

President Dick Smith reported that he acquired a small metal building for the league to store its equipment. The building will be placed under the stands. Harold Street, of the grounds committee, reported that more fill will be needed to get the field in shape before the June 1 opener.

Because of the amount of work to be done, the board has asked all its members and any parents willing to help report to the Little League field Monday evening at 6:30. Everyone is asked to bring a paint brush.

The league will conduct an ice cream sale throughout the town on the first Saturday in June. The sale will be conducted in order to purchase more equipment for the six teams.

President Smith presided at Thursday's meeting which was represented by all organizations. The next meeting is set for May 14 at the Elks Home.

Gov. Edward T. Breathitt has a policy of permitting no alcoholic beverages at the executive mansion.

Hill Rise And Northern Are Favorites For Derby

By TED SMITS

Associated Press Sports Editor

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Hill Rise, the pride of California, and Northern Dancer, Canada's hope, ruled as favorites today among the dozen 3-year-old thoroughbreds entered for the 90th running of the $125,000-added Kentucky Derby.

Pre-race odds on Hill Rise are 6-5 and 5-2 on Northern Dancer.

Far behind, in the view of the handicappers, are Quadrangle and The Scoundrel, each 8-1.

Cloudy skies and a temperature in the 60s are forecast for Saturday's race. The track should be in good shape despite rain the early part of the week.

A crowd of about 100,000 is expected.

ON RADIO, TV

Post time is 4:30 p.m., EST. CBS will televise the festivities from 4 to 5 p.m. Its radio broadcast is from 4:15 to 5 p.m.

If all 12 colts start, the purse will aggregate $156,800 and the winner will receive $114,300. It costs $1,250 just to go to the post in addition to the $250 entry fee and $100 to nominate.

Back of the four favored thoroughbreds are Roman Brother 10-1, Mr. Brick 15-1, Dandy K. and Wil Rad 20-1, and Mr. Moonlight, Ishkoodah, Royal Shuck and Extra Swell, all 30-1.

Post positions do not mean much because of the five-eighths-mile straightaway from the starting gate to the first turn, but Northern Dancer's trainer, Horatio Luro, got exactly what he wanted when he drew No. 7. Hill Rise is next to the outside in No. 11.

Mr. Brick got the inside position, Quadrangle No. 2, Wil Rad No. 3, Extra Swell No. 4, Mr. Moonlight No. 5, The Scoundrel No. 6, Ishkoodah No. 8, Dandy K. No. 9, Royal Shuck No. 10, and Roman Brother No. 12.

This undoubtedly will be the best second-guess Derby ever.

The nation's top jockeys have played musical saddles with a vengeance.

SHOEMAKER RON HILL RISE

Bill Shoemaker, who rode E. P. Taylor's Northern Dancer to victory in the Florida Derby, will be on Hill Rise.

Bill Hartack, who won the Wood on Quadrangle, will be on Northern Dancer.

Manuel Ycaza, who has previously ridden Roman Brother and Northern Dancer, will be on The Scoundrel. Bob Ussery will be on Quadrangle.

A Canadian-bred horse never has won the Kentucky Derby. Northern Dancer was foaled at the National Stud Farms at Oshawa in Ontario. Nearctic is his sire and Naltama his dam. His blood lines are excellent. They include Native Dancer, Mahmo and Hyperion.

In 14 starts he has won 11, finished second twice, and third once, and earned $280,572.

Hill Rise, is owned by George A. Pope of the El Peco Ranch, Madera, Calif., and trained by Bill Finnegan, Hillary is the sire and Red Curtain his dam.

His record is eight firsts and two thirds in 10 starts, with $196,919 in prize money.

When he won Tuesday's Derby Trial in the excellent time of 1:35 1-5 people began to talk of him as a potential winner of the triple crown, which means the Preakness and the Belmont in addition to the Derby.

The Kentucky Derby is a 1 1/4-mile race with all entries carrying 126 pounds.

Postponements Keep Piling Up

Another washout was chalked up to the weatherman Thursday as all area sports were postponed or cancelled due to the continuing rains.

Three baseball games were rescheduled for today and it was practically certain they would again be called off today.

Littlestown High postponed its baseball game for this afternoon at New Oxford and then planned to play its regularly scheduled game with Francis Scott Key under the lights this evening at Littlestown.

New dates were set as follows for other contests: Gettysburg-F and M., baseball, here, today; Biglerville at Bermudian, baseball, today; Gettysburg High at Fairfield, baseball, May 18; Biglerville at Big Spring, track, May 11; Littlestown at Greencastle, track, cancelled; York Catholic at Delone, baseball, no date.

U.S. Women Are Crushed By 71-37

LIMA, Peru (AP) — Russia virtually wrapped up its second straight Women's World Basketball Championship by crushing the United States 71-37 Thursday night.

It was the fifth straight triumph for the Soviet girls in the championship round and increased their point total in the standings to 10. Bulgaria defeated Brazil 60-49 in the opening game of the night's doubleheader and tied Czechoslovakia for second at seven points.

The Americans and Yugoslavia are tied at six followed by Brazil with five and Peru, in last place, with four.

SPAHN SEES PENNANT FOR MILWAUKEE

By DAVE O'HARA

Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP)—When a master of his trade speaks, it's best to pay attention. So when southpaw Warren Spahn predicts the 1964 Milwaukee Braves are a pennant contender other clubs better take notice.

"You know, we have a pretty darn good ball club," the Braves' 43-year-old pitching ace said Thursday night before being honored as Wisconsin's Athlete of the Year in 1963.

"I honestly think we're as good as we were when we won our first pennant in Milwaukee in 1957," he continued. "We have the hitters to get us the runs we need. The punch is all down the line. So it should come right to our pitching. And I think we've got it."

GREATEST LEFTIE EVER

Spahn, who has become the biggest left-handed winner in baseball history with 351 victories since 1946, was asked if it weren't expecting too much to think the Braves' young pitchers can carry such a big load.

"No, I don't think so," he replied emphatically. "Sure, I realize that none with the exception of myself and Billy Hoelt ever has won more than 11 games a season up here. But that shouldn't be a factor. Our younger pitchers have proven themselves in games. Now they have the opportunity to prove themselves over a season."

Spahn, who posted a brilliant 23-7 record for his 13th 20-victory season last year, is looking ahead to another magic 20 this year.

FACES PHILS TONIGHT

"But I expect plenty of help this year from the kids like Denny Lemaster, Tony Cloninger, Hank Fischer and Bob Sadowski," he said. "Those kids can throw hard—and good. Lemaster is a fine pitcher. Cloninger may have found himself with the one-hitter the other night against Pittsburgh. Fischer has won both his starts for us. And Sadowski knows what pitching is all about."

Spahn goes tonight against the Philadelphia Phillies, who top the National League with nine victories in 11 starts. The Braves are in third place, two games off the pace, with an 8-5 record.

Spahn, who has a 1-1 record, is due to be opposed by the Phils' Jim Bunning, who is 2-0.

BENNETT GETS 2ND VICTORY

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies must hate to see the month of April go by the boards.

With their 3-1 victory over the Cincinnati Reds Thursday night, the first-place Phillies closed out the month with a 9-2 record and lead the San Francisco Giants by a full game in the National League standings.

Southpaw Dennis Bennett racked up his second win of the season. Joe Nuxhall, who gave up two runs on two hits, two walks and a hit batter in the very first inning, got the loss.

Rookie Richie Allen knocked in one of those runs with a solid double with two on.

The Phillies didn't score again until the ninth.

Cincinnati scored a run in the third with a double by Pete Rose, a wild pitch and a run-scoring groundout.

The Phillies are in Milwaukee tonight, where they'll pitch Jim Bunning a game at the Braves' Warren Spahn.

ALEX KARRAS SIGNS AGAIN

DETROIT (AP)—Those broad smiles being flashed around the Detroit Lions' office Thursday meant bad news for the rest of the National Football League.

Alex Karras, the Lions' star defensive tackle who was reinstated last month after a year's suspension for gambling, signed his first two-year contract Thursday. He said he was anxious to start playing.

Karras was an all-pro selection before the year's forced layoff. He reported for the signing weighing a trim 240 pounds—some 10 pounds under his 1962 playing weight.

Karras and Green Bay Packers' halfback Paul Hornung were suspended by NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle for gambling on NFL games. Their reinstatement followed separate review of their records by Rozelle.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Stanley (Kitten) Hayward, a Philadelphia, and Curtis Cokes, from Dallas, Tex., meet tonight in a 10-round welterweight bout at the Blue Horizon Arena.

The fight will be televised nationally (ABC-TV) starting at 9 p.m., EST.

7 Partners In Combine Cash Richest Track Stub

By LARRY FRIEDMAN

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP) — A New Jersey trotting horse owner has his name on a check for $132,232.80 today. It is from Roosevelt Raceway and represents the largest payoff for a $2 wager in American pari-mutuel history.

The lucky fellow is Michael Sherman, 51, of Freehold, N.J., father of three children.

IRS GETS SHARE

Sherman, who is in the real estate business, cashed the winning ticket Thursday for the twin-double of the final four races at Roosevelt Tuesday night.

Sherman said he has six partners, but that he heads the combine. Four showed up to collect, ending the mystery of the winners' identities. An attorney and accountant also came along.

There's another "partner" to the big payoff — the Internal Revenue Service, which must approve the validity of the seven-man combine. Taxes would be considerably higher on a single individual.

Each of the seven sharing in the pot gets more than $18,890, before taxes, if they split it up equally.

KNOW WAY AROUND

The winners obviously know their way around horses — and pari-mutuel machines. Two had won twin - doubles previously, one for $7,000 and one for $320.

The other three who joined Sherman in the winner's circle were William J. Bresnahan Jr., 31, a dairy distributor and father of eight who actually bought the lucky ticket; John E. Saker, 30, and his brother, Joseph J. Saker, 35, each of whom has five children. The Sakers are partners in a supermarket chain.

The Sakers and Bresnahan are stockholders in Fair Acres Farms in Freehold, which owns about 14 horses.

The accountant, Morris Landis, identified two other partners as John Saker Sr. and William L. Bresnahan Sr., fathers of the winners. The seventh partner's name was not disclosed.

Sharp-Tongue Lady Astor Sinking Fast At Age 84

By COLIN FROST

LONDON (AP)—Nancy Lady Astor, the Virginia beauty whose tongue became the terror of the British House of Commons, was reported near death today. She is 84.

"My mother is sinking fast," said her son, the third Viscount Astor.

Relatives were called to her bedside at Grimsthorpe Castle, the Lincolnshire home of her daughter, Lady Ancester.

Lady Astor was the first woman to enter the British Parliament — in 1919, as member for Plymouth.

"I love politics and I love a fight," she once said. She had plenty of both.

OPPOSED DRINK

Women's rights were her great crusade and drink her great aversion.

For 25 years the Commons enjoyed her affectionate feud with Winston Churchill, no fervent admirer of feminists or prohibition.

Churchill, in common with most other members, refused to speak to her for years after she entered the House. Later she asked him why.

"Madam," he replied, "you made me feel as if a woman had entered my bathroom, and I had nothing to protect myself with except a sponge."

Between the wars she was hostess to the great names of British politics at Cliveden, the Astor family's estate west of London.

CITE AXIS TIES

Some Britons viewed the "Cliveden Set" as a government within the government.

the real source of policy in the years that led to World War II. The group was popularly supposed to favor cooperation with the Axis and oppose collaboration with the Soviet Union. But Lady Astor called this "a myth invented by the Communists."

During the war she turned the immense Thames-side mansion into a 1,600-bed hospital for Canadian soldiers.

Lady Astor was born May 19, 1879, the daughter of Chiswell Dabney Langhorne of Greenwood, Va. She and her four sisters were known as the "five beautiful Langhorne sisters."

One married the artist Charles Dana Gibson and was the model for the Gibson girl.

MARRIED AT 18

Nancy Langhorne was married at 18 to Robert Gould Shaw of Boston and had a son before they were divorced in 1903.

Shaw died in 1930.

She met Waldorf Astor — a British great-grandson of "the landlord of New York"—on an Atlantic crossing, married him in London in 1906, and became a British subject. They had four sons and a daughter. When the death of his father elevated Astor to the House of Lords in 1919, he persuaded Lady Astor to stand for election to the seat he was forced to vacate in Commons.

She served in the House for 26 years, retiring in 1945. Her husband died in 1952.

CARLISLE, Pa. (AP)—Police said Thursday a burglar broke a window to gain entrance to a lumber firm, rifled a cash register and escaped with all the cash—one nickel.

CIRCUS PLAYS HERE MAY 8

The Sells Gray circus, sponsored by the VFW post, will present two performances in Gettysburg next Friday. The circus will pitch its tents on the lot across West St. from the A and

P parking lot. The performances will be given at 4 and 8 p.m. Among the attractions will be Congo, the giant ape who is housed in a specially built escape-proof cage and is constantly guarded.

More newcomers include Rajah and Simba, Royal Bengal tigers captured in the jungles off Ranchipur River in India. Their ferocity and hatred toward man is equalled only by their deeper hatred of Nero, the black maned Nubian lion who is among their neighbors in the animal tent.

Among the more lovable animals is the herd of performing elephants. Their trainer estimates each eats approximately 3 tons of peanuts each season. Leader of the herd is Anna May, America's most celebrated proscribed movie star. She last appeared in MGM's "Jumbo," was seen in "The Greatest Show on Earth," and modeled for Mame Elephant in Walt Disney's "Dumbo."

Other stars are aerialists, clowns, acrobats, plate spinners, etc.

Advance tickets may be purchased from any member of the VFW.

The Noel Potato Chip Company, Inc., which is observing its 10th anniversary, originated in May, 1954, in a building 24'x32' at the rear of 244 Third St., Hanover. The complete processing, packing and distribution were carried on by the Noel family. The first chips were offered in five types or sizes of packages. The first employee was engaged September 15 of the same year. In 1955 the company purchased the business of Roscoe Hoffacker which distributed snack foods. The business began to expand and the need for larger quarters became apparent; hence, the purchase of the property of Mrs. Cora B. Hertz, 1437 Broadway, Hanover, in May, 1956. These facilities were expanded in September, 1959, to include a new packing room, additional space for delivery trucks and ample potato storage area.

The business maintained a steady growth and in 1962 a new processing or frying room, together with additional packing rooms, potato storage and space for more delivery trucks was added. The company installed a new stainless steel line of processing equipment of the latest and modern type.

Today the business spreads over more than 35,000 square feet of space on five acres of land, 38 full-time employees and a fleet of 16 delivery trucks. The company manufactures four types of potato chips in 21 different sizes and type of packages.

Conductor Adds Beatle Favorite

BOSTON (AP)—Arthur Fiedler, conductor of the famed Boston Pops Orchestra, never is afraid to experiment, so who should be surprised his program includes a number by the Beatles.

The orchestra currently is playing in Boston Symphony Hall. Its musicians are Boston Symphony Orchestra members.

Fiedler mixed a number called "Hold My Hand" by the Liverpool quartet in his program Wednesday and the audience applauded enthusiastically.

Fiedler was in Liverpool earlier this year and was intrigued by the Beatles music.

Sermon For The Week

By REV. ALFRED K. GOWALT
Pastor, Orrtanna EUB Church

WHAT IS OUR BELIEF?

St. Mark: 9:23 "All things are possible to him that believeth." I'm dying for what I believe. What are you living for? This was the cry of a Roman woman while she was being led to the arena to be destroyed by the lions 1,900 years ago. Her body perished, but her question weighs heavily upon every Christian's conscience today.

In the market places of our daily life we still add a few more questions. What is there to hope for? Is there any hope? People seem to ask these questions because it eases their conscience somewhat. This is to say that conditions are horrible; greed, hate, envy, strife, wars, hunger, selfishness and what have you. So it is much easier to say that there is no hope than to do anything about them. So we accept this idea and sit in our rocking chairs and idly rock another day away while conditions worsen.

"SORROWFUL DAY"

What do people believe? I'm sure that if we would repeat the cry of the Roman woman over and over again our hearts would sooner or later be pricked, and we would be convinced that we can at least try to make our world a better place to live in. I'm also sure that none of us wants this world to erupt into one giant volcano and destroy itself. What a sorrowful day it would be to meet your Maker sooner than planned because you thought there was no hope.

Christians, let's be frank with ourselves today and ask ourselves "What do we believe?" Doesn't Romans 8:28 say: "And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God." Can we then say that all things mean good, in different and bad, or as we say in our marriage vows "for better or for worse"? Could we not then believe that God may permit these conditions to prove our faith, our worth to Him as a disciple?

TAKE ANOTHER LOOK

Christians, let's take one more look about us today. Have you done that? Can you now say that there isn't a challenge for you somewhere? Remember the words of Jesus when He said that the fields are white unto harvest but the laborers are scarce. Don't take the words of St. Paul and switch them around and make them say that only certain conditions exist that must be taken care of by me. Remember Paul "And we know." So if you are a Christian you do know.

You may say, "What can I do? I'm untrained." If this then is your answer take a little trip with me on top of the mountain called the Mount of Transfiguration. Here Jesus took with Him His beloved disciples and went up a little higher and what a glory it was meeting the religious giants of yesterday, Moses and Elias. With this beautiful and rich experience we assure one another that God is still on His throne. Here is where our Saviour took His second look at the world below and, finding out that this indeed was His world to conquer, He said to His disciples, "Let's get going and be about our Father's business." He already had His face set to go to Jerusalem but it took this experience from the windswept mountaintop to go down and take the world for God. Be cautious, my friends. This also was His observation station to Calvary. From this station He was convinced what He was living for plus what He was going to die for.

DROWNING BOY

A story is told where a traveler's attention was attracted to a large gathering of people along a river bank. Being curious he joined the crowd. It wasn't too long before he knew why the crowd had gathered. Out in the river he saw a young boy struggling for his life against the current of the river. He also noted the lifeguards standing idly by. Being somewhat amazed by this he decided to try and save the boy from drowning. By now he could see the boy was almost finished but something happened. One by one the lifeguards jumped in and soon brought him safely to shore.

Still confused by these actions of the lifeguards, he approached one of them and asked why he waited so long before he decided to jump in and save his life. This was his answer. Sir, you see if we would have jumped in to save him while he had so much strength he would have taken us with him down to a watery grave, so we waited until he was somewhat weakened and then we all were sure of a safe recovery.

Can it now be said that the world has taken upon herself more problems than she is able to handle? Has she lost her strength to win her battles? Is she too weakened with battling the currents of unbelief? So now I plead with all people, Christians and non-Christians as well, as Americans and Christians, "What are you living for? What are you willing to die for?"

NO Pictures?

Don't be sad, sweetheart. The book has no pictures, but it's a wonderful story... the most wonderful story in the world! You'll hear about it in Sunday School, and when you're older you'll be able to read it for yourself.

Her eager young mind is ready to learn, and she'll find it easy to understand the glorious truths of the Bible if they are presented to her in pictures, stories and songs. The happy hours she spends in Sunday School could be the beginning of an unshakable Christian faith that will sustain her all her life.

You feel that your children deserve the best. Give them an early introduction to the beauty of the Christian religion... give them the security of a loving Christian home... and know that these are the greatest gifts you could provide.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

METHODISTS ARE DEBATING MAJOR CHANGE

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The General Conference of the Methodist Church moved toward a vote today on a proposal to abolish its Central Jurisdiction, which embraces 375,000 Negroes. The proposal was brought before the conference Thursday but debate immediately bogged down in discussion of amendments. The debate was carried into a night session, but there was no vote.

The proposal calls for transfer of the Negroes into the church's five other jurisdictions, which are formed on a geographical basis.

So far opposition has come from Southern delegates, which have sought to delay passage by shunting the plan into a committee, and from those who want a speedier method of ending segregation in the church.

Passage requires a simple majority by the 900 delegates attending the quadrennial conference.

About one third of the delegates are from the South, where the church has a large following. However, a veteran Methodist observer said Thursday the plan is a moderate one and probably will be passed.

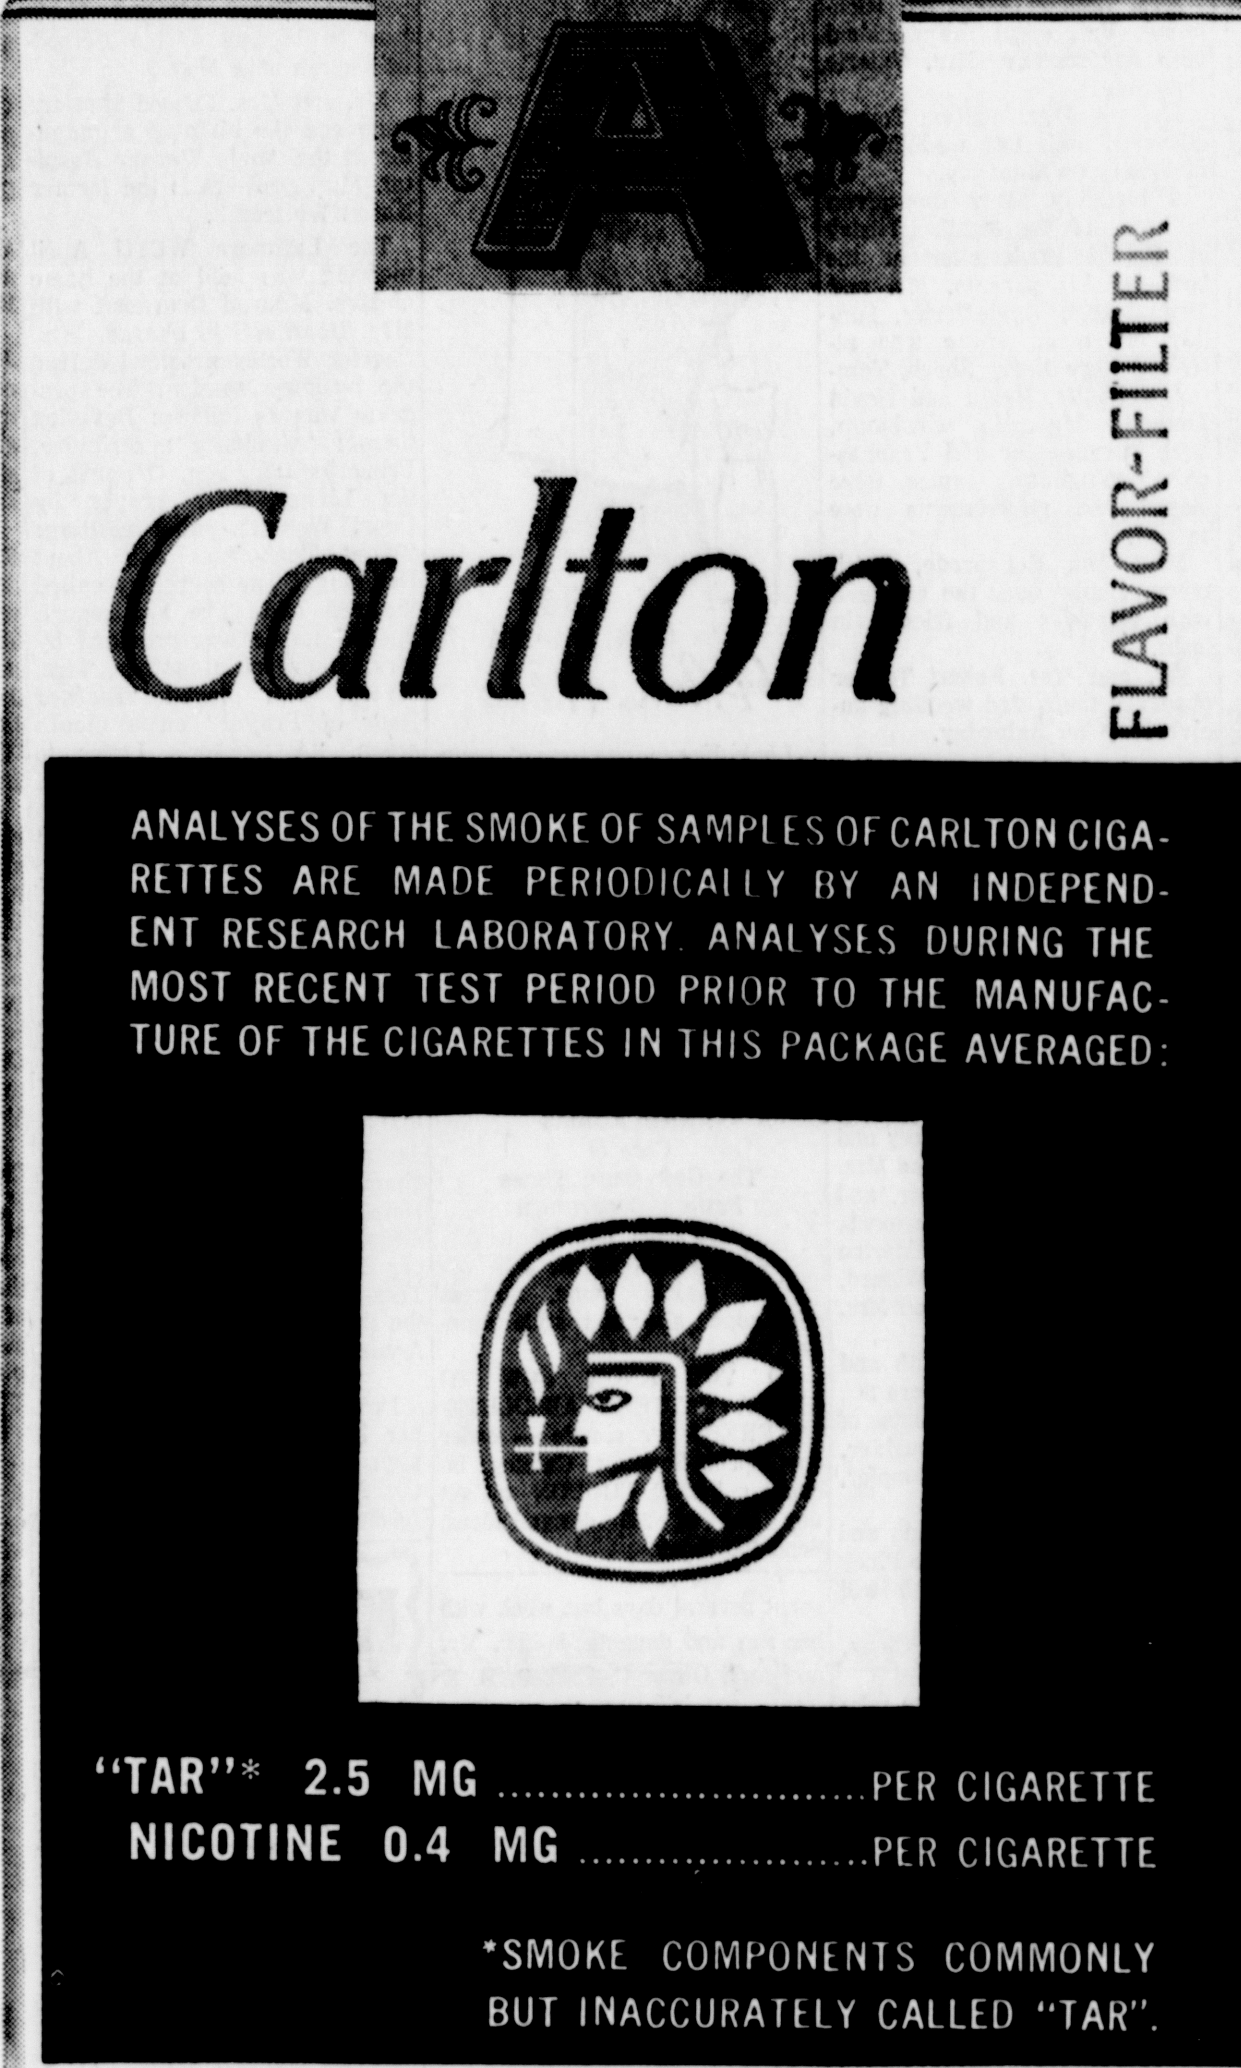

Although the plan ultimately aims at removing all segregation from the church it is strictly voluntary and no church or conference of churches would be compelled to abide by it.

Ed "Strangler" Lewis Says Blindness Helps One See Better; He's Sightless Again

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Blindness can help you see more clearly.

So says Ed (Strangler) Lewis, one of the world's greatest wrestlers, who at 75 is living in darkness for the second time in his life.

Lewis first lost his sight more than 40 years ago, when he was at the height of his wrestling career. He regained his sight, but was returned to darkness about three years ago.

"GAINED IN SPIRIT"

"In the past three years I have gained in spirit," Lewis says. "I have come to realize a true sense of values through this tribulation."

Lewis attributes his earlier regaining of sight to God, saying doctors everywhere had said he would never see again after a bout with trachoma, an eye disease. And he still has hope he will see again.

"If God was able to heal me once, He can do it again," Lewis says, "so I'm absolutely confident." At times, he adds, it seems he can see finger movements and lights.

DEEPLY RELIGIOUS

Lewis now is a deeply religious man. For the past 20 years, he has spoken frequently to church and youth organizations. Blindness has cut his travel, but he still covers an area around Tulsa.

Lewis tells a moving story of regaining his sight. He was preparing to go to Germany to see a renowned eye specialist, his last medical hope, he said. He told a friend he had tried everything and the friend asked, "Have you ever tried God?"

The friend told of his success in chucking the habits of narcotics and alcohol through religion and asked Lewis to come back to him if the doctor could not help.

REGAINED HIS SIGHT

At this point, Lewis says, he had to be led around. In Germany, the doctor "told me I would never be able to see again."

"I was down, I'll tell you," Lewis says. On the boat trip back to America, he says, he stood one night at the railing and peered down at the water.

"I really intended to do away with myself," he said, "but a small voice reminded me" of the friend's talk of religion.

Lewis went to the friend and together they began praying and reading scriptures. "I began to improve and within a year I could drive my own car," he says, "and I did for over 40 years."

ANOTHER TEST

Of his return to blindness, Lewis says, "This is just another test to prove the allness, the omnipotence of God. I'm going through a beautiful experience."

Lewis now spends an hour or two each day studying scriptures and metaphysical writings with his wife of 22 years. He preaches a philosophy of love and kindness.

Lewis says his religious conversion began many years ago in Cleveland, when he encountered a ragged but cheerful newspaperboy "I had fame and fortune, but I was very dependent and unhappy," he recalls. The newsboy on the other hand had little of the world's goods, "but he had happiness."

HOPES HIGHER FOR SURVIVAL OF S. VIET NAM

By ROY ESSOYAN

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—South Viet Nam's hopes for survival seem brighter than they were six months ago today, when Ngo Dinh Diem was overthrown.

This is not saying too much. Diem's final days had many aspects of despair.

"If Diem had lasted another month, South Viet Nam would have gone down the drain," a top American diplomat says. "The situation here was in its terminal phase then. We were hitting bottom."

LONG STRUGGLE AHEAD

The consensus today is that the decline has halted, but an uphill struggle stretches far ahead.

The main danger ahead appears to be political, not military.

Communist Viet Cong forces controlling much of the countryside have shown in recent weeks they can attack with strength and boldness. But the reaction time of government forces has improved significantly.

A top American diplomat told the French after they lost Indochina at Dien Bien Phu 10 years ago: "A second-rate general could have won in Indochina if he had had the proper political atmosphere."

ENEMY IS STRONG

A prime requisite is stabilization.

at 7 p.m.; Senior Choir at 8 p.m. Thursday, annual mother-daughter banquet at the Masonic Hall, Union Bridge, at 6:30 p.m. Friday, spring dinner-meeting of Carroll County Council of Churches at St. Mary's Lutheran Church, Silver Run, at 7 p.m.

tion of the military situation and the development of trained and dedicated civilian administrators.

The government has lost ground and population to the Viet Cong. The Communists have extended their control in the critical southern delta, in provinces around Saigon and in key populated areas in central Viet Nam.

Communist military units are stronger and better equipped. They are taking an increasing toll of U.S. and Vietnamese aircraft.

"On the civilian side there was more competence in the national bureaucracy last fall than there is today," a government expert says. "It reflected a rigid regime that had been in control for nine years and could exert its influence down to the grass roots."

"We need a few military victories to start building up civilian morale," an American said, "and we must develop honest and able civilian administrators in the capital and throughout the countryside to back up and consolidate the military."

The government, with strong backing from the United States, has launched campaigns to tackle both problems. "We are just starting to do what we should have started two years ago," says an American in a position to know.

U.S. military advisers in the field report Vietnamese army commanders are more receptive to advice. The morale of the U.S. advisers themselves has started to climb.

Neighbors Protect Parents Of Man Held For Kidnapping

By FRANK J. AVATO
Associated Press Writer
AUDUBON PARK, N.J. (AP)—Streets in this community of 449 homes bear such names as Hummingbird, Kingfisher and Ibis. They're named for birds painted by naturalist John J. Audubon, who once lived in the area.

This is where John Francis Bryan Jr., 25, grew up. Today he's in jail at New Orleans on charges of kidnapping two boys. One of them was found dead.

Visitors to Audubon Park, five miles east of Philadelphia, found the most activity at the Community Center, a few blocks from the home of Bryan's parents. Thursday night bingo was in progress.

Some residents wouldn't talk about the younger Bryan, apparently out of respect for his parents.

"They are wonderful people, respected and admired," said one neighbor. "People I've talked to can't imagine how it could have happened to them."

WANTED BY FBI

The younger Bryan, who was on the FBI's "10 most wanted fugitives list," was charged in connection with the disappearance of John David Robinson, 10, of Mt. Pleasant, S.C. The boy's body was found March 31 just north of Miami, Fla.

Bryan also was charged with kidnapping 8-year-old Dennis Burke of Humboldt, Tenn., who was with him when he was arrested. Dennis was unharmed. FBI agents also are questioning Bryan about the discovery near Venice, Fla., Thursday of the body of Hackie Wilson, 7, of St. Petersburg, Fla., who had been missing since March 23.

FORMER MENTAL PATIENT

An FBI dossier on Bryan describes him as "a dangerous former mental patient with a record of sex offenses against young boys."

A neighbor of Bryan's parents recalled that Bryan was a "quiet kid" who "helped his mother mow the lawn and seemed well-mannered."

The elder Bryan works at a shipyard and was a volunteer fireman, a woman neighbor said. "He always went to bingo on Thursday night. He used to call the numbers."

But Bryan was at home Thursday night. He courteously told visitors he and his wife, who is ill, would rather not talk about the charges against their son.

At the Community Center, a questioner seeking background on the younger Bryan, was told by one of several men around a bingo ticket table:

REFUSE COMMENTS

"You're not going to get any information here."

The other men only stared in silence.

The Bryans live in a two-story white frame house, one of several in a grass-covered U-shaped court. Several trees shade the closed end of the court.

At the head of the street, a long plot of grass leads to the Community Center on the ground floor of a two-story building. Police headquarters and a library are on the second floor.

Not too many miles from the town is Garden State Park, a horse race track.

The FBI, when it put Bryan's name on the most wanted list in mid-April, noted:

WAS AVID GAMBLER

"He has been . . . an avid gambler who frequents horse race tracks and enjoys all card games, including bridge." The FBI also said he is "reportedly a baseball and football fan."

Bryan served in the Navy from April 1956 until October 1958 when, the FBI said, "He was given a medical discharge after being confined for psychiatric care at a naval hospital."

Bryan, 5-foot-10½ inches tall and about 140 pounds, was arrested in nearby Audubon in 1958 on a charge of tying two boys to trees on separate occasions and molesting them, police said. He was committed to Camden County Psychiatric Hospital for mental tests.

4 Marines Hurt In Viet Cong War

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Four U.S. Marines were wounded and a helicopter was brought down Thursday as Communist ground fire raked a fleet of Marine helicopters taking South Vietnamese forces out of a battle area 35 miles west of the northern city of Danang.

A Marine officer and an enlisted man suffered bullet and shrapnel wounds, a U.S. spokesman said. A Marine enlisted man in another helicopter also was hit.

The Viet Cong fire knocked out the engine of a third helicopter. A crew member was wounded.

The American spokesman said the crew destroyed the helicopter. They were rescued by another Marine helicopter.

Several Marines were wounded Monday when a helicopter was shot down and another crash landed with engine trouble in the Do Xa region.

NEW PROPOSAL DELAYS ACTION

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate had a new point to consider about automatic jury trials in civil rights cases today: Whether to exempt state officials.

Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., Thursday night introduced an amendment to one that called for such trials in all criminal contempt cases in the civil rights bill.

The court would have the power to punish officials who in their official capacity disobeyed its orders.

Until Cooper introduced his amendment to one offered earlier by Sen. Herman Talmadge, it had looked like the Senate was all set to vote by the middle of next week on a substitute proposal—a compromise calling for jury trials in only certain cases.

Now, action apparently must come first on the Cooper amendment before anything can be done about the substitute.

Southern foes were still going strong against the substitute proposal.

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

ANNIVERSARY: It was 175 years ago that George Washington was inaugurated as the country's first president and Lyndon B. Johnson, the 38th president, feels now "there is a genuine need to restudy, re-evaluate, reassess many aspects of this office."

Johnson marked the anniversary Thursday by inviting a group of American historians to the White House for the occasion.

Flanked by the scholars in a White House reception room, Johnson proclaimed the year ahead as one to commemorate the office and to strengthen "the service of that office in meeting our continuing challenges."

CALL TO COLORS: The Defense Department has halved its draft quota for June, issuing a call for 6,000 men — all, as usual, ticketed for the Army.

VETERANS: The American Medical Association has registered with Congress its opposition to the treatment of veterans at government expense for illnesses not related to their military service.

"We do not believe that having spent time in uniform should confer upon one the right to receive free medical care from the nation for illnesses and injuries which are totally unrelated to his military service," Dr. David B. Allman told a House Veterans subcommittee Thursday.

The Atlantic City, N.J., physician said it is each man's responsibility to provide his own

GOP Committee Urges Penny Stunt

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republican Congressional Committee newsletter today urged Americans to send pennies to President Johnson to enable him to keep the White House lights on at night.

It only costs one penny to burn a 100-watt light bulb all night, the newsletter said as it labeled the President's lights-out program "a phony economy which we could well do without."

Instead of a $10,000 raise for the 535 senators and representatives — they now get $22,500 — there would be a $7,500 boost. And it would take effect next January instead of in July.

By delaying the increase until after the election, a congressman wouldn't be taking the political gamble of voting himself an on the spot raise. President Johnson favors the pay increase.

Scot Nobleman Dies In Ireland

His Balmagown Castle estates, in northern Scotland, covered 300,000 acres until he sold 100,000 for 420,000 pounds ($1,176,000) last year. The cause of death was not announced.

INCOMPETENT CYPRIOTS
Cyprus Should Pay Own Police Costs
Confiscatory Fine On Guns Proposed

By JIM DAN HILL
IN CYPRUS, the natives are still playing hide-and-seek with guns—and for keeps. The loser loses all, including life should he prove resentful. The winners intend to take all.

A United Nations "police force" merely provides umpires for the game. They draw occasional lines on the ground. No Moslem or Orthodox Christian is supposed to cross; until after dark, that is.

There are more rules against the umpires than restraints upon the murderous players. The "police force" can restrain no one unless its members are under actual attack. They can not shoot until shot at.

ACTUALLY, the United Nations Force consists of the English Army battalions sent to Cyprus four or five months ago and recently reinforced by some Canadian Army battalions.

It is literally a hat-shifting deal. The officers and men were required to lay aside their regulation garrison caps bearing British insignia and put on blue berets. A general from Nehru's Indian Army is putative commander for the U.N.

At the same time, these rules were being written by U Thant, the U.N., because of Russia, was disinclined to discuss the financing of the operation.

The United States and Great Britain, in the interest of harmony within NATO, are picking up the tab for as many millions as it may cost. It so happens that Turkey, sympathetic to the Moslems, and Greece, sympathetic to the Orthodox Christians, are both members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

NOTE THAT the Moslems are not Turks and the Orthodox Christians are not Greeks, press headlines notwithstanding. They are all Cypriots. They have never been anything but Cypriots. Through many, many sleepy centuries, Cypriots of all faiths and heritages lived happily, side by side on the same tight little isle.

Cyprus is about the size of Puerto Rico, roughly 3,500 square miles of wide fertile valleys, mountains of scenic grandeur bathed in sunshine and caressed by cooling sea-breezes. Cypriots have much for which to be thankful.

Their island is literally a cross-piece in the cradle of civilization. Copper was being mined there 5,000 years ago. As fishermen, sailors, traders and metal workers the ancient Cypriots did business with Persia, the city states of Greece, Phoenicia, with King Solomon's Biblical 12 tribes, and with the Egyptians. Cyprus commerce flourished within the empires of Alexander the Great and Rome.

Paul, the Apostle, and his friend, Barnabas, brought Christianity to the island direct from the Cross. A thousand years later, Richard, the Lion Hearted, of England, captured the island from the Moslems. It became a pawn in that strange group of religious wars known as the Crusades.

Five hundred years later, and about 20 years before Captain John Smith founded the American Colony of Virginia, the Moslem Turks recaptured the island, but the population, already mixed as to religion, language and historic ancestry, continued to live side by side with little friction.

With an eye on the Suez Canal, England's artful Prime Minister Disraeli pressured the sultan into giving England control of Cyprus to keep Russia from getting it at the end of the Russo-Turkish War, 1878.

ENGLAND brought a revival of trade to the island. The aggressive, Orthodox Christians gravitated to the cities. Their prosperity and numbers increased. The sturdy Moslems were content to till the soil. Their numbers have not kept pace. The current ratio is seven to three against the Moslems.

The growing population of a half million is creating pressures for the necessarily limited land and resources. The Moslems are determined to hold what they have had for centuries. They are finding sympathy in Turkey, which still has some treaty rights with reference to the island.

Markarios, archbishop and president of Cyprus, wangled similar treaty rights for Greece in the independence negotiations of August, 1960.

The present situation adds up to the simple fact that as a nation the Cypriots are not competent to govern themselves in the basic principles of life protection, law and order. If outsiders have to come in to do it for them, the cost should be borne by taxes upon the beneficiaries—namely, the Cypriots themselves.

Two Negroes Charged With Brutal Murder

NEW YORK (AP) — Police charged two youths with homicide today in the killing of a store owner's wife and said one of the pair had admitted slaying a social worker in Harlem on April 11.

The two booked were Daniel Hamm, 17, and Robert Rice, 17, both Negroes.

The homicide charge was filed in the stabbing of Magit Sugar, 45, who was killed Wednesday in the second-hand clothing store she and her husband, Frank 50, operated in Harlem.

Sugar was stabbed six times and is in critical condition.

Police said Hamm had admitted fatally stabbing Miss Eileen A. Johnston, 28, a social worker, as she walked along a Harlem street with another social worker, Clarence Durham, 30, a Negro.

STABBED IN BACK
Durham told police at the time that an unknown Negro stabbed the young woman in the back for no apparent reason and then fled. Miss Johnston was white. She was a former resident of Elgin, Ill.

Police said Hamm and Rice, picked up Thursday night near their homes, made statements admitting they were present when Mrs. Sugar was slain and her husband suffered six knife wounds.

Ronald Felder and Walter Thomas, both 18, and Willie Craig, 17, all of Manhattan, were arrested Thursday on the assault charges. They were held without bail pending hearings. The three denied any part in the attack.

Police originally said eight Negroes were involved in the attack.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Bruce Moore, a two-year letterman at the University of Pennsylvania, has been chosen team captain of next year's school basketball team, Coach Jack McCloskey announced Thursday night. Moore is a junior from Maplewood, N.J.

Ray Carazo, of Palmerton, Pa., last season captain, and possession military equipment, weapons, guns and ammunition not manufactured in Cyprus, with the value of the confiscated weapons applied to the fine, could reduce the tax cost materially and expedite the peace. With others financing everything, the murderous game can go on forever.

James MARLOW Reports

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration, as the Kennedy administration was, has been baffled about how to get Fidel Castro's communism out of Cuba. There has been no visible progress. Castro is still there, still boss.

Now a special group of Republicans—headed by Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, brother of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower in whose time Castro came to power—has proposed solutions.

But they have their own built-in bafflement. They raise about as many questions as answers. And on some key questions they don't even attempt answers.

NOT DIRECT THREAT

Cuba, no direct threat to this country, is an embarrassment as a Communist foothold on this side of the Atlantic. And it is a menace to the rest of the hemisphere as an agitation point and training ground for Latin American Reds.

President Kennedy's attempt to scuttle Castro—backing a Cuban-exile invasion but without direct American involvement—was a disaster. He was ready to use direct action only when Cuba did become a direct threat.

HIS MAIN HOPE

That was when Soviet Premier Khrushchev put his missiles there. Kennedy backed him down. But Khrushchev's ties with Castro remained. Any direct military action against Castro now might mean war with Russia.

Even if Russia didn't intervene, a direct attack by the American giant on the Cuban midget—while talking peaceful solutions elsewhere—wouldn't make the United States look good anywhere.

So Johnson's main hope—as Kennedy's was—has been an economic boycott to shut off all trade with Castro. But the Allies sophomore John Hellings, of Bristol, Pa., were co-winners of the team's Arthur B. Kieffer trophy as last season's most valuable players. Hellings is the first sophomore to win the Kieffer trophy.

trade with him, noting this country wants to boycott trade with communism in Cuba while selling wheat to communism in Russia.

NO INVASION THREAT

The Republican group—called the Republican Citizens Committee's Critical Issues Council—came up with this:

"It must be clearly understood by the world the United States is prepared, as a last resort, to use military force to remove international communism from Cuba, just as it has long been prepared to use military force in Korea, Berlin, Lebanon, the Formosa Straits, and elsewhere."

These were poor examples. The United States was never prepared to use military force in those places except to stop attacks, invasions or takeovers. And Cuba isn't threatening to invade or take over anybody.

NOT SPECIFIC

Then is the Republican council proposing to go beyond defense and into a direct attack on Cuba, in which case it would be an aggressor? No. It said: "We are not advocating hasty and improper military action against Cuba."

What would "improper military action" be, an invasion? The council doesn't say. It hopelessly suggests that just letting it be known the United States is willing to use force is "probably the greatest assurance that it won't be needed." So another question is raised but not answered.

If Castro doesn't attack anyone and the United States isn't willing to attack him first, how is the American military force going to mean anything?

The council has other suggestions:

1. Invoke sanctions against allies who sell anything to Castro. But this might hurt American alliances. Therefore, another question: Which is more important to the United States, getting rid of Castro or keeping alliances?

2. The Johnson administration prevents Cuban exiles from using American bases for raids on Cuba. The council seems to suggest this is all right but that the exiles should be encouraged to use other countries' bases.

3. The United States should help form a Cuban government-in-exile, and support it. This would take some doing, since the exiles are widely divided in their thinking.

But, the council says, such a government should equip an army. It couldn't do so without American help or get to Cuba without American transportation. And such an army would be worthless unless it go to Cuba to invade.

But suppose Castro beat the brains out of the invaders. Would the United States then step in to save them by direct intervention or would it hang back as it did in the Bay of Pigs. And what would Russia be doing all this time?

Rolls to serve with corned beef are made this way: Halve half a dozen soft rolls and spread cut surfaces with a couple of tablespoons of butter or margarine mixed with mustard-flavored horse-radish. Put the halves together again and heat the rolls, in a brown paper bag closed tightly, in a hot oven for about ten minutes.

When you are boiling leeks to serve as a vegetable, you'll need two bunches for six servings.

DISPUTE OVER PA. DELEGATES FOR SCRANTON

HARRISBURG (AP)—Republican state headquarters is claiming 63 of Pennsylvania's 64 national convention delegates for Gov. Scranton, but other reports give Scranton only 61 delegates.

Three delegates have indicated their support for Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

Although not an avowed candidate, Scranton has said he would accept a "sincere and honest draft" at the convention.

Scranton has agreed to lead the state delegation to the national convention as a "favorite son" to keep the delegates from scattering their votes to the various candidates.

Under the plan, the delegates will vote on the first ballot for the candidate supported by the majority of the delegation. As it appears now, this will be non-candidate Scranton, although at least two other delegates, and possibly a third, plan to vote for Goldwater.

ONE UNCERTAIN

"I'm going to support Sen. Goldwater on the first ballot, and they better get that through their heads," said Edward S. Swartz, Hummelstown merchant who won a delegate seat despite lack of support from the Republican organization.

Republican headquarters earlier had said Swartz was pledged to vote for Scranton on the first ballot, but Swartz denied this.

Donald P. Kennedy, a delegate from Erie, said he was unsure whom he would vote for on the first ballot, although he leaned toward Goldwater.

Republican headquarters recognized the election of one Goldwater delegate, Theodore Humes, from Westmoreland County. A headquarters spokesman noted, however, that three candidates favoring Goldwater were defeated in Allegheny County and a fourth trailed in

CIVIL RIGHTS GROUPS STUDY CHESTER PLAN

CHESTER, Pa. (AP)—A national civil rights organization met in nearby Philadelphia today to determine what further support ought to be given to civil rights activities in Chester, as an uneasy moratorium on demonstrations left the city free of racial trouble for the first time in more than a month.

James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, said that if its National Action Council approves, at the meeting today, CORE may summon all of its chapters east of the Mississippi—about half of its 75,000 members—to converge on the city.

Meanwhile, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People re-affirmed its intentions to stand by its announced seven-day suspension of protest demonstrations in the city, where civil rights protests have resulted in boycotts.

TO PROBE "BRUTALITY"
The demonstrators are protesting alleged de facto segregation in Chester schools.

An NAACP statement issued Thursday by tri-state secretary Philip Savage said the organization "will support no one who would inflame an already tense situation" and who would not cooperate to seek a proper, peaceful solution of Chester's racial problems.

However, Stanley Branche, leader of the Chester Committee for Freedom Now, disputed the announced moratorium and said there could be further demonstrations.

Previous demonstrations in the city have led to charges of police brutality.

The office of Gov. William W. Scranton announced yesterday that the charges were being investigated by the state police, the state justice department and the state human relations commission.

KREMLIN CUTS CHINA MAY DAY AS RIFT GROWS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Communist world held its annual May Day rites today with massive outpourings of people in Moscow and Peking and the usual tough talk about the invincibility of communism.

But the great schism between the Soviet Union and Red China cast its shadow over the gala celebrations. The Soviets refused to attend the Peking rally and withdrew an invitation to a Chinese labor delegation to view the annual parade in Moscow's Red Square.

JOIN BOYCOTT

East Germany, Bulgaria, Hungary and Czechoslovakia joined the Soviets in their boycott of the Peking festivities.

Many non-Communist countries also held May Day celebrations to honor their labor force. But there were few such activities in the United States, where labor's big holiday occurs in September.

The Soviet Union unveiled a new anti-aircraft twin rocket during a parade through Red Square in which tens of thousands of soldiers and workers marched. Western observers said the 20-foot rocket appeared to be for field use against planes at medium or low altitudes.

ALGERIAN GUEST

Standing by Premier Khrushchev atop Lenin's tomb, Soviet Defense Minister Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky warned that the Soviets are strong enough to smash any attacking imperialist state. Algeria's President Ahmed Ben Bella and an array of government officials and visitors were on the reviewing stand. Red China's Premier Chou En-lai told a reception for 1,300 foreign visitors on the eve of the big rally in Peking's main square that his country would win its quarrel with the Soviet Union and other Communist critics.

CHOU LASHES U.S.

Boasting of China's new strength, Chou also lashed out against the United States.

"A new upsurge has appeared in the struggle of the people of the whole world against the U.S. imperialist policies of aggression and war," he said.

Chou urged the peoples of Asia and Latin America to rally together and said: "The united front against U.S. imperialism is steadily expanding and we shall unite ever more closely and continue for the victory of our common cause."

STALIN PORTRAIT

The giant square was decorated with huge portraits of Mao Tse-tung, Marx, Engels, Lenin and Stalin.

The East German Communists marked May Day with a massive military parade in East Berlin.

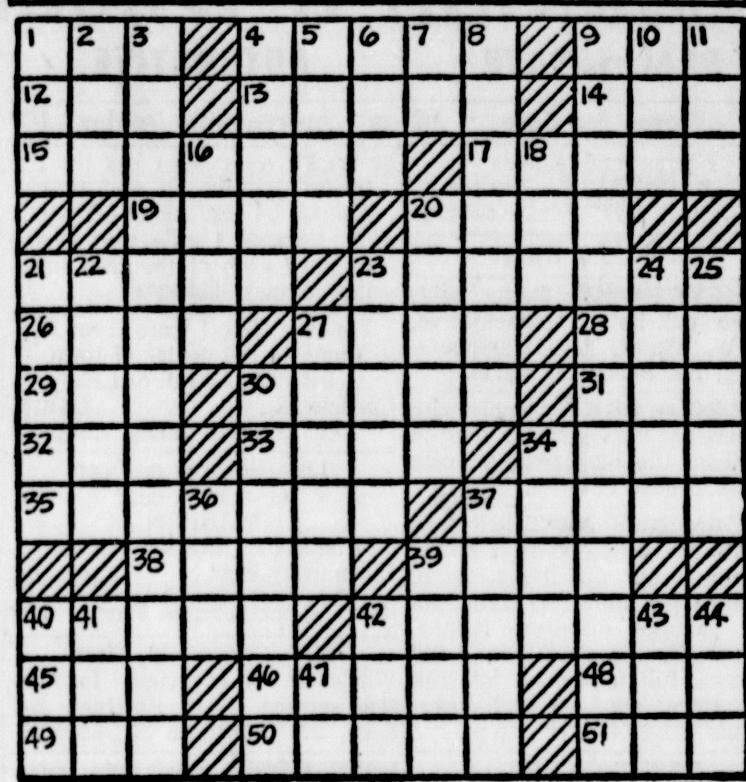

About 300,000 West Berliners attended a trade union rally on their side of the wall. They heard speeches by Chancellor Ludwig Erhard and West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt.

The theme of the Western rally was freedom, peace and German unity. The only marchers were unarmed trade unionists who converged on the square in five long columns.

Absent this year from the East German celebration were the threats against West Berlin that have been a feature of past May Days.

Nearly a fifth of the U.S. population one year and over moved between April 1961 and April 1962, according to the Census Bureau.

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy and daughter Caroline spent a busy five hours at the New York World's Fair, attracting crowds at every stop.

John Jr. wasn't along Thursday but Mrs. Kennedy said she hoped to bring him to the fair later.

CHICAGO (AP) — Stepin Fetchit, who won fame and earned several million dollars in the movies, is ill in Cook County Hospital — a welfare patient without a dime.

The shuffling Negro comedian's real name is Lincoln A. Perry. He was best known for his supporting roles in motion pictures starring Shirley Temple and Will Rogers.

NEW YORK (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson, U.S. ambassador, says he doesn't want to be considered as a possible opponent for Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., in the November election.

NEW YORK (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk says the civil rights bill must be passed so the United States' voice will not be "muted by the hypocrisy of unreal pretensions."

In a speech to the American Jewish Committee in New York, the secretary said "I know of no single step which Congress can take to establish more securely the safety and welfare of our nation than to pass the civil rights bill now before it."

CLARK SAYS MISS BLATT IS WINNER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., says he doesn't think absentee ballots will upset the slim lead held by Miss Genevieve Blatt, state secretary of internal affairs, in the primary race for the Democratic senatorial nomination in Pennsylvania.

Miss Blatt, with the support of Sen. Clark, opposed the state Democratic organization candidate, Supreme Court Justice Michael A. Musmanno, in Tuesday's primary.

With only 10 precincts still missing and the absentee ballots not to be counted until next week, Miss Blatt leads 455,099 to 451,995 in unofficial returns.

"WON ON MERITS"

Clark, in an interview Thursday, said he thought "it was a terrific triumph, not for me, but for Genevieve. She won on her merits because she's a wonderful person," he said.

Clark said the three main issues which won for her were: Voters believed she would make a better senator than Musmanno; they believed she would make a better run against Republican incumbent Sen. Hugh R. Scott, renominated by Republicans for another term; and because "they didn't want the 'boss of Philadelphia' to take over the state Democratic nomination."

FAMILIAR PATTERN

He referred to Francis Smith, Philadelphia democratic chairman, who supported Musmanno in the primary.

Clark, in supporting Miss Blatt, got into heated debate with Musmanno during the primary campaign, but he doesn't think it will have any effect on the November election.

"We Democrats have a long history of beating each other's brains out in the spring and kissing and making up in the fall," he said. "This year will be no exception."

Miss Blatt, meanwhile, has not claimed victory, nor has Justice Musmanno conceded defeat.
